Corcoran Associates Teams With Washington Firm To Capture U.S. Coast Guard Award

Scottsdale, Arizona – This recent award focused on the Manned, Covert, Surveillance Aircraft (MCSA) program, compliments Corcoran Associates experience and strategic plan. The offices of Aviation Forces for the U.S. Coast Guard, tasked Corcoran Associates and their Washington Partner, to build an Operational Requirements Document (ORD) that will define an important aviation asset.

Gerald Corcoran, Principal Manager for the contract award comments: “We saw this project as a perfect match to the Firm’s extensive operational, technical, and program management experience. Since the ORD becomes the basis for downstream procurement/acquisition action, it must address all the technical, logistics, and management issues while anticipating the state-of-the-market technology in sensors and air vehicles. The Firm’s participants helped the U.S. Coast Guard leadership preview a series of options and probable solutions prior to selecting those that will be included in the ORD. We realize that our client has an urgent and compelling need for this new aviation asset, so the Firm expedited the process and provided the first deliverable to the U.S. Coast Guard team two weeks ahead of schedule.”

This is one example of how Corcoran Associates is teaming with Industry to help the U.S. Coast Guard identify, streamline, and incorporate technology that makes a difference and meets the bottom line.
